

ONE NIGHT. Taller 9.9.05
ONE PLACE. @ 6 p.m.

conversen latinos photo exhibit | puerto rican festival poster unveiling | live performance by yerbabuena

Taller Puertorriqueño

2557 N. 5th Street

Friday, September 9, 2005, 6 p.m. Program, 8 p.m. Performance

ONE NIGHT. ONE PLACE. RSVP 215.627.3100

Free Admission. Donations welcome.

Conversen Latinos Photo Exhibit and Executive Summary

In 2005, youth, community residents, social service, corporate, and government representatives gathered for an honest, intergenerational discussion about the barriers and solutions to advancement for Philadelphia's Latino community. See the conversation as captured on film by photographer Tony Leon, and get a copy of the executive summary, detailing the frustrations, hopes, and vision of those who gathered to discuss Latino History in Philadelphia; Defining Leadership; Race, Class, and Gender Issues in Our Community; and Creating a Blueprint for the Future of Latino Philadelphia.

2005 Puerto Rican Festival Poster Unveiling

Philadelphia's 43rd Annual Puerto Rican Festival continues the tradition of cultivating the artistic talent of Latino youth by selecting this year's Puerto Rican Festival 2005 Commemorative Poster from dozens of student entries.

LIVE PERFORMANCE: YERBABUENA

Whether bomba, plena or música jíbara, their music is interactive. And being witness to their vibrant sounds and the deep joy that making music together gives them, just leaves the audience no choice but to join in the chorus or dance for the drums.

Visit www.yerbabuena.biz for more information.

This event was made possible with funding from:

The Philadelphia Funders' Collaborative, The Intercultural Center at Swarthmore College, Concilio, and Taller Puertorriqueño